WE NOMINATE

Chester Ralph Stroup, one of New Jersey's highly perceptive educators, whose second annual report as Superintendent of the Borough Schools has underscored the Princeton Area's abiding concern for quality education on all levels. In outlining the aspirations and achievements of an excellent school system, which in the months ahead will be pondering plans for a new educational center as well as exploring the possibilities of consolidation with the ably administered Township Schools, the 46-year old Stroup—now entering his 17th year as a Princetonian—documents an interest in educational affairs that may well be Princeton's most distinctive hallmark.

In a real sense the Borough's Schools have "come of age," and have moved steadily forward, since Stroup was called here in 1916 as Principal of the Nassau Street School. While no single individual can ever be given credit for the evolution of front-rank institutions, Stroup in each successive stage of the development of three Borough schools (i.e., Nassau, Witherspoon and the basically regional High School) has played a major role. Starting with the racial integration of the elementary schools shortly after World War II, and continuing through the curricular innovations of 1961-62, his influence has been readily discernible.

Parents whose children's primary and secondary school experiences have coincided with Stroup's progression to the superintendency clearly recall his contributions in his early years in the Nassau Street School, particularly his efforts to give youngsters "practical lessons in democracy." By the early 1950's, when he added the responsibilities of Assistant Borough Superintendent to his duties as School Principal, he had proved the effectiveness of a "student council," including representatives of the first five grades. It was his contention that "the best possible curriculum, the most effective training aids are vitally important; so are the standards of a code of conduct evolved in a democratic atmosphere."

Born in the hard-coal town of Kulpmont, Pa., the same day his father was elected mayor of Kulpmont, Stroup began pointing for a teaching career even before he completed his high school studies. At West Chester State Teachers College (Pennsylvania), where he crammed five years of work into four, he concentrated in the natural and social sciences and demonstrated his characteristic energy by also carrying off high honors in dramatics and track. Money, he recalls, was "mighty tight" during the mid-1930's, but he succeeded in making ends meet by playing the so-called Philadelphia circuit as a swing-band instrumentalist.

Nearly a decade in Georgetown, Del., that straddles the Delaware-Chesapeake Ship Canal on the edge of Maryland's Eastern Shore, gave Stroup his first insights into the "challenges and satisfactions of teaching." He handled classroom and administrative assignments throughout a 12-grade system and was serving as a school head at the time he accepted Princeton's bid. From the beginning, Stroup has sought to strengthen relationships between teacher and pupil, between school and family, between family and community, and over the years has unceasingly experimented with educational methods and procedures dedicated to inculcating a sense of individual responsibility as well as far-ranging understanding of the subjects taught.

For his excellent portrayal of a school system that is reassuringly "alive"; for his capacities for endowing in others (student, teacher and parent alike), enthusiasm for solid work and accomplishment; for accepting the burdens of leadership in a period of crucial importance to Princeton and its schools; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

COUNTY PLANS PARKS

Asks "Yes" Vote. The Princeton community, like other communities, sometimes tends to keep within its own borders, and to forget the broader world outside. This week, however, Princeton was reminded that it is not only part of Mercer County, but a vital part of that Boston-to-Norfolk belt sometimes called "megalopolis."
In Princeton Township where residents have been aware of the "megalopolis" threat for some time, the first steps were taken to buy land under the state's "Green Acres" plan to forestall the inevitable encroachment of the city. And in the first of a series of Princeton Adult School lectures on "Community Planning," a nationwide

MORE OPEN SPACE: The State now has in hand the Township's application for "Green Acres" funds to buy the black patch of land—28.5 acres—shown above. Tentative plans call for nine tennis courts, an ice-hockey rink, a playground and "passive recreation" on the partly-wooded site. Can Princeton and Mercer County long remain "open"? For various opinions, see "This Is Princeton."

authority on regional planning urged Princeton residents to decide what kind of town and region they want, and then fight for it.

This November, Mercer County voters will be asked to approve a County Park Commission which would be given the power to acquire park land, develop and open it to the public. The creation of a park commission and development of a park system will be one of the most important events in the history of Mercer County.
Says Richard J. Collier, Freeholder "It will have an immediate and long-range impact on the health and welfare of County residents and will be a major factor in preserving and enhancing all property values."
The County goal is an open park system of 15,000 acres—10 percent of Mercer's 150,000 acres. The 15,000 would include municipal, county and state park system.

Specifically, Mercer hopes to acquire these sites, once the County Park Commission has been approved by the voters and its members appointed.
(There is no specific priority.)

Person To Person

A friend reminded us of one of Sam Levinson's bright sayings, and we think you might like this one: "When you need a helping hand, you'll find one at the end of your arm." Of course, this is a clever way of expressing the old "help-yourself" philosophy, and we're all in favor of that. It's good to know that there are many things we can do for ourselves, and many ways in which we can help ourselves reach whatever goal we have set. But we think it's also important to know when to call in the services of those who are experts in their field. We humbly submit that many years of experience enable us to serve you well, and our creed is to serve you the way we would want to be served. Won't you come in soon? Kammer Buick-Pontiac Co., Route 206, opposite Princeton Airport, WA 1-2222.

This Is Princeton
signment may pay 20 percent, and the Township 30 percent. Although Borough and Township have agreed in principle to joint applications for "Green Acres" money, the Township is applying alone in this case because acquisition of the Harrop land will make a "package" with the present Community Gardens acreage.

And as they considered the acquisition "Open Space" and approval of a County Park Commission in November, municipal officials listened last Thursday while C. McKim Norton, director of the Regional Plan Association, reminded a Princeton Adult School audience that, by 1980, Mercer County would be in the heart of a fully-built area stretching from Boston to Portland, by sea route. "New York and Philadelphia are octopus cities," said Mr. Norton, "they stretch out their tentacles, and Mercer is squarely between them."

Urging his audience to "get your minds out of local planning and think as an area," Mr. Norton nevertheless advised Princeton residents to pin down the goals and policies they wanted Princeton to follow, and to "get steamed up about them."

He warned of the deluge of new families that would come when the 1984 crop of babies married and began to seek homes, probably on half-acre plots.

"Each town has in its power to change the character of Mercer County and of the area," Mr. Norton warned. "All you need to start a house and development is a banker and a bulldozer, and the pressure will be irresistible in the next decade."

Township officials, perhaps more sensitive to problems of space and its utilization than their Borough counterparts, attended Mr. Norton's lecture.

and will be on hand for the rest of the Adult School's "Community Planning" course. Those who have enrolled are Gerald Breese, John Mount and James Campbell from the Township Planning Board; Zoning officer Wilbur J. Shill and his assistant, Robert de Wit; Administrator Joseph R. Nini; assistant engineer Frank Quinby and Gordon Griffin, who is attorney for both Township and Borough; Alan Cantor and Albert Austen of Borough Council's "Future of Princeton" Committee have also enrolled.

SCHOOL PROPERTY EYED
By University. Princeton University is considering purchase of the Nassau Street School, President Robert F. Goheen said this week. The property will be offered to prospective purchasers when plans are completed for the proposed educational center which the Borough Board of Education plans on a 15-acre tract northwest of Princeton High School. Voter approval to purchase the land was given last week, and a referendum to approve building plans will be held at a later date.

Princeton's interest in the Nassau Street School arises from the fact that the building lies between the University's 38 million engineering quadrangle on Olden Street and others on Washington Road. "It is obviously a pretty large piece of property that stands between important parts of the University," said President Goheen.

He added that, when such an opportunity to buy the school presents itself, "some serious thinking must be done by the University." The Board of Education anticipates some $625,000 from sale of the Nassau Street School—basing its figure on the 326 feet along the main thoroughfare at $2000 per foot. An additional $148,000 may be realized from sale of the Witherspoon School, the Board believes.

"The board has made some pretty exorbitant claims about the revenue producing possibilities of these properties," Dr. Goheen commented. "If they're that lucrative," he added, "they've probably couldn't afford to buy the Nassau Street School."

BANKS BATTLE

Over PSI Office Building. Objection by First National Bank caused the Borough Zoning Board to defer decision on the parking variance requested by Palmer Square, Inc. for its $1,350,000 office building. The bank expressed alarm at the inclusion of banking facilities for Princeton Bank and Trust Company in PSI's architectural plans. First National was given until Monday to prepare its arguments, which will be presented at a closed hearing.

Crawford Jamieson, attorney for First National, told the board that notice of the variance hearing did not convey the fact that the building was to house Princeton Bank and Trust. "We are at sea as the bank investors and stockholders. On the radio we hear that this is the application of Princeton Bank and Trust for a variance."

The main office of Princeton Bank and Trust was transferred to the shopping center last May, Mr. Jamieson said. "The present Nassau Street office is a branch. Under New Jersey banking laws, a branch cannot be built within 1,000 feet of our bank without our consent, nor within 200 feet of a church without the approval of the church. First Presbyterian Church is located across the street from the planned building."

George R. Cook, 34, president of Princeton Bank and Trust, stated from the floor, "There is nothing in the law that says it cannot be within 1,000 feet of another bank." He added, "This is not an auxiliary office in any sense of the word." He told the board the bank "might become the tenant of one or two floors." He said that the transfer of the main office to the shopping center was done because of the potential growth of the Township. At present, "the main business is done at our technical branch on Nassau Street."

Poe Questions Plan. John P. Poe, president of First National, rose to ask Mr. Cook if his bank "would give up its present Nassau Street site" if and when it moved into the PSI building, Mr. Cook answered in the affirmative. Fred Blaicher, president of Palmer Square, Inc., remanded the board that "our application is for a building." Mr. Jamieson promptly asked, "Is the bank part of your presentation here?" Mr. Blaicher replied, "Only as a potential tenant."

Mr. Jamieson then asked whether PSI has an alternative plan. He pointed out the detailed architectural model in which PSI architect Charles Agle had explained would contain banking floors, as well as drive-in and walk-up windows for depositors' convenience. Questions were also raised on the 174 needed parking spaces which PSI attorney Henry M. Stratton stated could be made available through use of PSI's present parking lots. Traffic flow was also debated.

The Playhouse parking lot, PSI said, has 180 spaces available, 36 of which are assigned to the Nassau Inn wing. There are 166 spaces in the John Street 101 behind Palmer Square West, and 43 in the parking area behind the postoffice. Parking for 27 cars would be provided on the office building lot.

The amount of usage the lots now receive and the parking fee charged for the Playhouse parking lot were debated.

Albion C. Smith, 3d, an attorney with offices at 23 Palmer Square West, a member of the Palmer Square, Inc. board of directors and an organizing figure in the present zoning laws, spoke on behalf of the PSI request for a variance.

"I don't think that the zoning procedure should be distorted to delay," he said. "PSI, almost alone in this town has provided off-street parking far beyond the call of duty. All they are asking in this case is a variance for parking which is not immediately on the site." He said that efforts to have the Borough Council assume responsibility for parking in the downtown area have been repeatedly turned down. "It is virtually impossible for any property owner to provide the desired parking spaces for a new building. Speaking as chairman of the Zoning-Parking Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, we feel every effort should be made to encourage this type of building in downtown Princeton. Whether a bank is located here or not, I think PSI has full right to develop this property."

Other Applications. Donald Sawyer of 50 Lodge Road was granted permission to build a one-story addition at the rear of his house.

The application of Leon J. Christen of 142 Leabrook Lane, secretary of Christen Realty Company, to convert six hotel rooms at 5-7 Witherspoon Street over Lahiere's Restaurant into two apartments was approved, providing a fire escape approved by the Borough Engineer was installed.

Apartments Approved. The board gave its blessing to the plans of Lawrence Norris Kerr

Fashions Done To Perfection

Topics Of The Town
which is what your motion im-the outcome of the study. . .
plies. . . this I cannot do. His comment expressed the views of the other board members, and the motion died.

Graham Rohrer, board president, told Mrs. Strayer and the sizeable audience present, that the board is anxious to cooperate in every way in a school's study.

"We believe, and have so stated to both mayors, that total consolidation of these communities would represent the final solution as far as the problem affects the Borough
. . . This study of the consolidation or 'togetherness' of schools — to be worthy of the public funds — would have to be incorporated in a municipal study.

"As soon as both municipalities can establish the basic statistics as to population and population growth, the rates, as soon as there is understanding as to long-range plans on zoning which affect the schools, then we are ready to — just as soon as the ground rules are established."

He reminded Mrs. Strayer that the land being purchased from the Westminster Choir College "automatically reverts to the Choir College as of August 1, 1965. — If the building is not begun by that date. "The township study schedule, by their own calculations, will not be completed until 1964."

North by Northeast. Mr.
Rohrer added, "There are two issues here. One, the replacement of out-dated schools, and two, consolidation or merger studies. To mingle these two issues is a great public disservice. Don't mix the two and use one against the other.
There is nobody in Princeton who wants to get a study up and voted on more than I."

One of the residents present asked how a new study could be implemented. "Just go north by northeast a little and get your attention on the municipal government to start the study," Mr. Rohrer said.

Organization Committees.
Four committees are being formed to handle various aspects of the planned building

Dog Days Return

Whether it's chilly
Or whether it's hot,
When October is here,
I always get shot.
— FIDO

From where Fido sits, it appears some one is getting ready to give him the needle again. He's right — the Borough's annual fall rabies clinic will be held next week, and dogs who have not been inoculated will be retained there 1965 licenses.
Weatherwise, the situation was less cloudy for man than for his best friend. Generally fair and mild for the next two days, the Man reports, with no real precipitation in sight.

According to Mr. Rohrer, there will be a building committee, to study with borough and township and sending district officials and to assure the people of the community that "this school will not be constructed to prejudice consolidation, but to fit a requirement that might develop should consolidation be effective at some future time."

There will be a municipal and legal affairs committee which will meet with the mayors of the borough and township and the Borough planning board. The board will operate as a Committee of the Whole when the time comes to select an architect and to act as reference on the whole building operation.

A citizens advisory committee will also be formed. Appoints to the committees will be announced in about a week or ten days, Mr. Rohrer said.
Present at the session were Mrs. D. Barton Stevens, Borough
PTA president; Mrs. J.
M. Knapp and Mrs. Paul Ashley, Borough PTA; Mrs. John F. Fischer, high school PTA;
C. Bergen Groeneyck, auditor;
Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Palmer,
Mrs. Nancy H. Smith, Mrs.
Esther H. Roberts, Mrs. Grace
M. Loetscher, Mrs. W. W.

Mrs. Albert A. Austen, Dr.
Harvey Rothberg, Charles D.
Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John A.

Mrs. J. Seymour Montgomery
and Mrs. John Marks.

CITIZENS NAMED
To School Committee. Herbert S. Bailey, Jr., 33 Hun Road, has been appointed chairman of the Citizen's School Planning Committee of the Township. Richard Pearson, president of the Township School Board, announced the members of the committee this week.

Those who will serve with Mr. Bailey are Mrs. George Freeman, 311 Western Way, vice-chairman; Mrs. Seymour
Rogdonoff, 39 Randall Road,
Max Blumensfeld, 39 Randall Road; Professor L. V. Chan-

Overbrook Drive; Professor
Frank C. Shoemaker, 361 Walnut Lane; Mrs. Harold Sprout, 93 McCosh Circle, and James Ward, 187 Birch Avenue.

The Committee, which will

DEAR MOVIE BUFF: We are opening the fall season with a big splash — four "big" pictures within a calendar week. One of them is a current picture, one a (so-called) experimental film, one a modern classic, and one a world-wide favorite for 30 years. Arrange your schedule to see as many of these as you can, and watch for more of the same during the months to come. Free monthly schedule sent on request. Box 91, Lambertville, New Jersey.

BRANDY SNIFTER: Wrestling with temptation, "The Drunkard" (Donald Warnock, Jr.) cries "Temper, begone!" as the dastardly villain, Lawyer Cribbs (Garrison Ellis) offers him a bit of refreshment. The scene is from "The Drunkard," Community Players' revival of their spring success. It will be given at Murray Theatre on campus this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30. (Parker Hayden Photo)

News Of The THEATRES

GOOD WILL TRIUMPHS IN "Drunkard." There is a scene in "The Drunkard" which shows the hero in the torments of delirium tremens and, as acted by Donald Warnock, Jr., the performance has been known to make women weep and strong men faint. Good triumphs, however — or at least it did when Community Players gave "The Drunkard" last spring.

Revived for the fall season, "The Drunkard" will be given in Murray Theatre on campus this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.25 for Thursday, and $2 for Friday and Saturday, and they are available at the University Store or at the Murray Theatre box-office.

Directed by Garrison Ellis, who has also taken for himself the juicy role of the villain, "The Drunkard" features, besides Mr. Warnock, Thomas Richardson, William Patton, Mical O'Maher, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cohen and their eight-year-old son, Mark, Shirley Kauffman, Richard Coen, Carolyn Siera, Slater Crawford, Harry Weier, Mary Hayden and Mark Ritts.

The Palmer Squares, a barbershop choral ensemble, will appear as singing waiters, and our talented singers will render old-time ballads and dances which can-can during the "olio" — the intermission musical medley.

HERE'S DYLAN "Milk Wood" At McCarter. Dylan Thomas' invocation of life, love and dreams in a Welsh seacoast village will come to McCarter this Friday at 8:30 for a one-night stand.

Subscriptions offered "The Arts At Princeton" series, which is due again this season. The Theatre and the excitement engendered by its size—the feeling that, if an actor drops his lines, they will fall into your lap—have always made the University's Theatre Intime productions interesting ones to the Princeton community.

This year, Intime announces for the first time a season ticket arrangement which entitles a subscriber to the three major productions planned for the year (most of these later, reduced rates to Community Players or McCarter productions given in Murray, and lower prices for "The Arts At Princeton" series, which is due again this season.

For its three major productions, Intime will offer "Streetcar Named Desire," "The Devil's Disciple" and "Five Finger Exercise," all of which will run for three weekends instead of the usual two.

There will also be Freshman One-Act Plays and a program of original one-acters. The freshman offerings will be Saroyan's "Hello Out There" and O'Casey's "Bedtime Story." They and the original one-acters will be offered to subscribers free.

The package costs $5, and may be ordered by writing to Princeton Theatre Intime, Murray Theatre, Princeton University. Additional information may be obtained by calling WA 4-2967 or WA 4-0335.

PLAYHOUSE

Music Man (Today thru Tues.) Robert Preston, who played 802 performances on Broadway in the lead of the show, again carries the burden of the story on the screen as Harold Hill, the fast-talking, love 'em and leave 'em traveling salesman. He specializes in selling band instruments and uniforms in small towns, even though he doesn't know a note of music. Opposite him in almost as strenuous a part is Shirley Jones as Marian, "Madam Librarian."

Other citizens of River City, Iowa, in the early Twentieth Century, are engagingly played by Buddy Hackett as Preston's sidekick and child, Hermonie Gimpel as the pretentious wife of the pompous mayor, and Paul Ford as the mayor. The barber shop quartet, the Buffalo Bills, is properly nostalgic. The dance sequences range from simplicity to elaborate production numbers, all lustily and joyously performed. Outstanding is the memorable "76 Trombones" done in two different versions. Comment: whistling and stamping to the Pied Piper.

I Thank A Fool (Oct. 10-16) stars Susan Hayward and Peter Finch in a highly emotional story of a woman doctor who has been sent to prison for a "mercy killing." She subsequently becomes involved with the prosecutor who had hounded her.

The movie was filmed in color in Ireland and England and the settings heighten the suspense. Comment: a good child.

IT'S NEW

To Us

GOING ABOARD?

You Never Know. The world being what it is today (but that's another story), anyone in almost any job could be called upon to jet to Nigeria on short notice, suitcase chained to the wrist, passport in the other hand.

It is this passport that can give all kinds of trouble to the passenger who has to make a fast trip without much advance notice. Where can you get a passport picture taken at 7 a.m. to time to make it to Idlewild, and so on.

With these confusions in mind, Travelax and Alan Richards have started something called a Passport Clinic which is guaranteed to provide you with a passport picture in the time it takes to set off a photographer's flash.

Starting next Wednesday night, you can go to the Travelax offices at 193 Nassau any time between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. and have a passport picture taken free of charge.

The photographer will be Alan Richards, well-known for his varied and multitudinous picture-taking activities in Princeton. He will take your picture in the Travelax offices, and you will go home and sleep the sleep of the Well-Prepared.

Travelax will take three prints of you and keep them on file against the day when you need a passport. One print can be used for your international driver's license, one for your visa, one for your passport. Then when the boss says, "Off to Hong Kong on the morning plane", you have only to call Travelax and your passport picture is there.

As you probably know, passport pictures are good for only two years and then must be renewed, so if you already have a picture, you'd better check up on its vintage. Perhaps you need a rerun.

All this is absolutely free, and you need not make an appointment. Just go to Travelax any Wednesday night with your hair combed, and say "cheese."

DENNY WIPES CLEAN

Thorne is happy. Enthusiasm is mounting, as they say, at Thorne's these days over the products of Frances Denny, Cosmetics.

Take, for example, Quick Foam, a neutralized gel that washes skin clean without any drying after-effects. You pay $2.50 a tube, or $4.50 for a brush-and-foam kit.

Then there's a hand cream as sleek and supple as an invisible glove for hands that have had too much detergent or too little attention to cuticle, and "Oils of the Wilderness," a band and body lotion. "Fade-Away" will fade away freckles, brown spots or a tan that was glorious in July but

Light and Heat

Ladies who remember the old-fashioned curling iron (but there's nobody that old in Princeton!) will be curious about its granddaughter, the electric roller-curler now at Thorne's.

This $7.95 machine consists of three roller curlers in different sizes which slip onto an electric iron. Designed for bouffant hairdos on ladies who have no time to spare, the curler will take care of hair that has been lined, hair that's exceptionally fine, hair that's just plain difficult.

Now, we come to Ronson's Vara-Flame cigarette lighter, which is also designed for ladies with bouffant hairdos, or any other kind for that matter. Ronson's lighter uses gas instead of lighter fluid, and this means a reduction in your cleaning bills.

You attach a pressure can to the little valve in the lighter and wait 10 seconds while the lighter fills. Then, depending on whether you are a chain smoker or after-dinner only, you can count on many more hours of flame than you ever could with a conventional lighter.

Comes in table or pocket models, and if you still want the fluid, there are standard Ronsons at Thorne's, too.

is on the muddy side now.

Frances Denny's anti-perspirant is made to kill bacteria, and you use it for four consecutive days, then only as you need it. Costs $3.

Helena Rubinstein, one eye on the dollar, offers you an $8.75 value for $5, and who can say "No" to that? You get the rich, greaseless Skin Dew night cream free with Skin Dew moisturizer. Or, you can buy a smaller size and get a $5 value for $3.

Jacqueline Cochran, who never lets Helena get ahead of her, presents free tubes of cleansing cream and freshener when you buy Flowing Velvet for $5.75. This is an $8.25 value. With the smaller size, you get just the cleansing cream free for $3.75. (This is known, for convenience's sake, as a "Twosome" and a "Threesome." Makes sense.)

Revlon's Eterna 27, with pro-gentien, is now $10.85 in the six-ounce $18 size. This is a night cream which provides very deep lubrication, and there is some heady talk about leveler lighting skin in 40 days (and 40 nights, presumably) after you begin.

Back to Cochran for a minute. We find the Body Beauty Treatment, with hydrolin, at $6.50 for the sixteen ounce size and $3.75 for the eight. "Like sheer, fragrant, velvet dew," Jacqueline says, and who will dispute her?

Matchabelli greets the season with "Golden Autumn," a luminous gold, black and orange package job that features huge, all-wool puffs in black.

KING-SIZE BEAUTYREST

You'll never rest your best while half the night must be spent struggling to maintain your share of a double bed. Even on a 50-50 basis that share makes for skinny sleeping. What to do about it? We suggest you make the switch to King-Size Beautyrest to get the extra length, the extra width, the extra comfort you both need to again sleep as sound as babies.

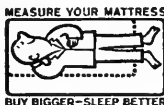

Yes, an extra 105 square inches of sleeping area means even more of that famous Beautyrest individual coil construction to lull you to sleep, more of that firm, buoyant, non-sag support. Why not sleep right tonight on a King-Size Beautyrest made only by Simmons?

deceitful of execution. Last week, he played the general with an eager eye for the girls in "Waltz of the Toreadors" at the Playhouse. In "Only Two Can Play" he appears as a librarian — but hardly one of the timid and bookish kind.

Sellers plays an extroverted, rough fellow given to aggressively going out of his way to assist attractive females who patronize the library. His problem is soon revealed: though romantically married to a lovely woman and the proud father of two children, he has the "seven-year itch" as far as his marriage is concerned. He is easy prey for Mai Zetterling, cast as a bored wife.

This situation leads to two hilarious scenes that are alone worth the price of admission, in which the would-be adulterers try to sin and fall. Comment: another lively British farce.

THE PRINCE

"Music Man" Today thru Tues. See review above.

A Very Private Affair (Oct. 10-13) stars Brigitte Bardot in a little tale of a movie star tormented by the very popularity she had worked so hard to achieve. Most of her problems stem from the fact that the populace trail her about.

A series of lovers brings her to realize that she is in love with her friend's husband, portrayed by Marcello Mastroianni. She runs off with him to Spierlo, where he is directing a play.

The publicity about the romance soon sets the avid public on their trail. All of which has a familiar sound comment: pretty thin.

or orange to go with the drying powder, bath oil, spray Cologne (2 sizes) or skin perfume Cologne.

On the medicated side for ladies who really have skin problems, Thorne's has a set line Helena Rubinstein set for teens, consisting of Beauty Washing Creams, a 10-minute medicated beauty mask and the medicated Water Lily lotion. The latter is a medicated as astringent face wash, cleansing grains, medicated make-up and a social compressed powder.

WHAT'S ELECTRICITY?

We Use Candles. When you can buy a candle that burns for 200 hours, why bother with electricity? Country Mouse has those magic, enfolding Bluegate candles that slowly spill their light and they wax over the sides as they burn. Fascinating to watch at any stage of unfolding.

The Bluegates are short, medium, taller and very tall candles, and they are measured by the length of time they last, 200 hours being the longest. From there, they go to 150, 100 and 50 hours of burning time.

Rose, olive yellow, black, orange, white, blue — what color is for you?

Many candles this fall at Country Mouse are scented, and we found ourselves suit-

MADAM LIBRARIAN: Shirley Jones and Robert Preston star in "The Music Man" now at the Playhouse and the Prince, singing about the Essence of Spring, pot pourri, bayberry of course, heliotrope, lemon verbena, spice, rose geranium, strawberry, essence of Hawaii and roast loin of pork. Either by design or caprice, these candles have a freckled appearance which is quite appealing. Mottled, but gently so.

The talented artist-owner of Country Mouse has designed, for Christmas giving, a red mailing tube for gift candles. About 14 inches long and three inches in diameter, it will hold one of those cylinders we mentioned, or six bayberry tapers or a small nob-glass holder and six tapers.

The red tube has room for name and address, of course, and a splendid, rarely detailed pen-and-ink drawing of an old-fashioned Father Christmas hat beats any conventional Santa you ever saw.

Well, back to October. We're still in the candle department where Country Mouse has real beechwa candles (glow-burnring, not hot tempered like a bee) and those fancy Fol de Roi candles that look as though they had been dipped in sugar. Multicolored, in stacks of pastel discs, or pastel squares, or spirals, they are conversation pieces to take the guests' minds off the burned stew.

The spectacle de la maison is candles, but Country Mouse has some other excitements this fall, too. Teens will go for a collection of alpaca hats, some made like elves' tail caps, others like Cosack hats, still others like great big blobs of fur. These are real alpaca, $14 to $20, in natural shades of brown, tan and cream. One magnificent specimen, which we are on a tall blonde, is well over a foot tall, with looping tassels to hang free, or tie under the chin.

There is also an alpaca rug made of black, brown and white strands ($110) and a few pairs of alpaca boots to put under the bed. These are furry blobs with fur lining to keep you warm inside and out. Until November 1, 15% discount on Christmas cards at Country Mouse.

possible Township senior high school.
As needed, the group will appoint sub-committees and special consultants. James Perkins, 265 Edgerstone, former vice-president of the school board, has already agreed to act as special consultant.

In making the announcement, Mr. Pearson said that present plans do not call for an immediate study of Township-Borough school merger, however, Mr. Pearson said. When the Borough Board of Education is prepared to participate in such a study, the instructions to the citizens' committee will be extended to cover this possibility.

EDUCATION TV EYED
At Princeton High. Programs from station WNDT-Channel 13 may soon be beamed into Princeton High School. "We have no firm plans," Superintendent Chester R. Stroup reports, "but we are going to explore the education of program, especially in connection with our language laboratory. The school has antennas and wires for TV reception. We might put it to use in the visual aids room."

Dr. Stroup said that while no formal contact has been made with the station, the high school may want to assist in any we could. We'd like to explore the possibility of a tie-in with our experimental work in team teaching. Neither the Witherspoon

Street or Nassau Street schools are equipped to receive TV programs. Dr. Stroup commented, "but I hope this new program will be included in the planning of our new building."
Dr. Stroup, who has been connected with educational TV since 1953, served for two years as a consultant to the Township Educational Committee on Educational Television.

BIRTH LIST
FOURTEEN "Deductions." Fourteen children were born last week at Princeton Hospital; eight were boys.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Strickler, Box 18, Plainsboro, September 23; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmitzlein, 78 Stuyvesant Road, Franklin Park, both on September 23; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewallen, 35 Breewood Avenue, Trenton, September 26; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bailey, 127 Wood Street, Hightstown, September 27; and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Chouinard, Route 69, Hopeville, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dufour, New Road, Lambertville, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cannett, Van Dyke Road, Linnington, all on September 29.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Barclay, Jr., Orchard Avenue, Hightstown, September 23; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nelson, 403-A Devereux Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Licum, Fairland Drive, Cranbury, both on September 24; Mr. and Mrs. John 38 Oakland Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Durbetaki, 690 Rosedale Road, both on September 27; and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Easter, 33 Ilwaco Circle, September 28.

TIME FOR POLITICS
Parties Speak Out. Borough Democrats announced this week that the campaign co-chairmen for James Andrews and Shaw Livermore would be Mrs. Harold Stein, 7 Greenhalm, and Miss Mary Petrone, 244 Witherspoon.

In the Township, Republican candidates John O. Green and Carl Schafer, continue to urge the establishment of a Joint Sewer Operating Commission, equally responsible to Borough and to Township with a full-time sanitary engineer to run the system.

"If we are elected, one of our first efforts would be directed to the establishment of a genuinely centralized and highly autonomous sewer operating organization," the candidates say in this week's statement. "We would carry out the remaining trunk sewer extensions and improvements which have been recommended, as rapidly as possible consistent with sound fiscal policy and demonstrably genuine need."

"The trouble-free operation of the sewer system should be Topic A in the series of studies of mutual cooperation now being set up by Borough Council and Township Committee," say the candidates.

Township Democrats John

Consolidation Study

Another informal session will be held this Thursday by the Borough and Township on the subject of a consolidation study. According to Mayor Henry N. Falterson, the meeting at the home of Township Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman will be devoted to organization and committee assignments.

In addition to the two mayors, others expected to attend are M. F. Healy, Jr., and William Princeton of the Township Committee, and Albert A. Austen and Dr. Elwood W. Godfrey of the Borough Council.

Little and James Foley focused this week on the problems of Negroes in the Princeton community following an address by the Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church before the Township Democratic Forum.

"Negroes are gradually being squeezed out of Princeton by the soaring tax rate and the initial cost of buying into white neighborhoods in either Borough or Township," the Rev. Mr. Anderson told the Forum.

He said that the percentage of Negroes in Princeton had dropped from 19 percent before the war to about 6 percent now, although the overall population had increased, and he said he was shocked by the slow progress made in the acceptance of Negroes by the white community. He cited particularly the service clubs, Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis. He also said that 16 Negro families had found homes outside the Witherspoon-John area, 12 in the Township and four in the Borough.

"The notion of neighborhood schools is a travesty of justice when the community is, by tradition, a 'de facto' segregated community," the Rev. Mr. Anderson said to the Forum gathering. He also said, "Princeton people with pride to the fact that it can now park 400 more cars. But no investment is being made in a recreation center for teenagers."

CANDIDATES' NIGHTS SET

By Women Voters. The Princeton League of Women Voters will hold two Candidates' Nights this fall, one for local candidates and a second for county and congressional candidates.

Rep. Frank Thompson and his opponent, Ephraim Tomlinson, will appear with candidates for the office of freeholder at the County Candidates' Night on Tuesday, October 23, at Community Park School. Candidates for Borough and Township office will appear on Monday, October 29.

 at Community Park School.

At both meetings the candidates will address themselves to questions prepared by members of the League, and they will also answer questions from the floor. Mrs. Sidney Liebes, Jr., has charge of both programs.

The Princeton League will sponsor a program for candidates for the Lawrence Township Committee on Thursday, October 25, in Lawrence Junior High School. Mrs. Joseph Wenograd has charge of this event.

The League is holding its annual drive for funds this week. The money will be used to continue the League's services. The League's voter service program includes voting information and candidate sheets, mailed to all Princeton and Lawrence voters, as well as the Candidates' Nights.

VALLEY TO BE "THRU"
 County Supports State. Bowing to the weight of sheer numbers, Township Committee decided Monday night to surrender to the demand of the Director of Motor Vehicles and reverse the Valley-Jefferson Road intersection. Valley will soon be "thru" at Jefferson, and motorists driving on Jefferson will have to train themselves to stop at Valley.

Actually, the decision is a compromise, because the state would like to see Valley "thru" all the way from Route 206 to the Shopping Center. The question of reversing the Witherspoon-Valley intersection was referred back to the Township Traffic Safety Committee for another count because the original traffic count was made when school was not in session. There are two schools near the intersection.

The Traffic Safety Committee's automatic counter showed, during one week in June (after school was over for the summer) the following tally: cars on Valley at Jefferson, 26,577; cars on Jefferson at Valley, 14,192; cars on Witherspoon at Valley, 26,580; cars on Valley at Witherspoon, 21,077.

On a Friday — the busiest day in this particular area there were 5,059 on Valley at Jefferson; 2,644 on Jefferson at Valley; 4,354 on Witherspoon at Valley and 3,992 on Valley at Witherspoon. The counter tallied cars approaching the intersection and therefore included those making turns as well as those continuing across.

It is possible that Committee may make Valley-Jefferson a four-way stop street until motorists get used to the switch. A four-way arrangement is not legal, but it is allowed for 30 days as a temporary measure.

There is some feeling on the part of Township officials — Police Chief James Campbell included, according to administrator Joseph Nini — that the Valley-Jefferson sign is needed as a brake for cars driving at 40-45 miles an hour down Bayard Lane, around Route 206 and into Valley Road.

Sewers. Committee stamped its approval on the sewer report made last week by Borough Engineer Arthur Brokaw, and Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman told Committee member John S. Mount that Mr. Brokaw would go ahead with details and blueprints as soon as all governing bodies had indicated approval.

The project, to cost $66,000, will include a 600-foot line paralleling the existing trunk sewer along River Road, an enlarged by-pass at the pumping station, replacement of a one-million-gallon-per-day pumping unit with a five-million one, a new standby generator and chlorinating equipment.

"This should have been done years ago," said Mayor Fairman, "the original plan back in the '30's called for a parallel line whenever it was needed, and the Sewer Operating Committee is just now getting around to it."

The new plan will divert any overflow into the Millstone and keep it out of Township streets, basements and Lake Carnegie.

In other business, Committee heard Mayor Fairman express the hope that the Borough Board of Education "will not be to precipitate" so that its school plans and the consolidation study can proceed jointly. Committeeman William Wilson said that Graham Rohrer, president of the Borough Board, had told him that the Board's next order of business would be to ask for a meeting with the Township Planning Board.

COURSES SET

For Cub Scout Leaders. The George Washington Council, Stony Brook District, has announced a new series of training courses for Cub Scout leaders. They will be open to Cubmasters, Pack Committeemen, Den Mothers and interested parents and friends.

The basic course will meet on consecutive Mondays, October 15, 22 and 29. The advanced course will meet also on consecutive Mondays, November 15, 22 and 29.

Parking Lots Debated.

To the Editor of Town Topics: This past Thursday the attorney for Palmer Square, Incorporated, made his case before the Borough Zoning Board of Adjustment in allow off-street parking for 171 automobiles his client wishes to bring into the Palmer Square area.

It is a pity that more Princetonians could not have been at the hearing to watch the procedure by which the face of this town could be changed so drastically. One organization, Palmer Square, Incorporated, (known familiarly as PSI), has already bought about more significant changes in this community than any other individual or corporate entity.

PSI is a business corporation which owns many acres of land and several buildings in the center of the Borough. It now wishes to build a five-story office building on Nassau Street, a building which could safely hold five or six hundred people under present fire regulations.

We are assured that the actual number would be somewhat less. Under a Borough ordinance, anyone building a new business establishment must provide on-site parking for the customers and employees expected in the new building.

By the formula in the ordinance the proposed new building would need 171 parking spaces. With permission from the Zoning Board the builder can provide parking space on his own property within 400 feet of the new building. PSI was asking such permission.

One could dwell upon statements by PSI's architect at the hearing that the new building would be prettier than the present grassy plot and that PSI is performing a valuable service for Princetonians by making a corner of the proposed new building a good place to meet friends before going to lunch, but the hearing has to do with automobiles. The fascinating thing about the proceedings was that hardly anyone wanted to talk about automobiles.

It appears that PSI certainly has enough parking spaces for the new building. Princetonians have watched over the past few years the blossoming of new parking lots in the center of the town. Houses have come down on PSI land and the residents have been invited to look elsewhere for lodgings.

Their choice is somewhat limited, of course, by their color and their slender resources. It is said that their houses were shabby looking, a curious thing in view of the fact that they were owned by PSI which now wishes to raise a new office building costing the and a half million dollars. The new commercial face of Princeton has apparently won a high priority ranking.

Back to the 171 automobiles. Would they occupy new parking spaces, that is, ones not now being used? Well, no. It seems that automobiles now park on most of the spaces where PSI intends to put the 171 additional ones.

The president of PSI did not have exact figures on this matter, in fact, he did not have any figures, but he suggested that perhaps 75% of PSI's parking spaces are now used on business days. What would happen to the automobiles that now park on spaces that would have to be used by the new building? They would have to go elsewhere. Where?

PSI has evidently not gone into this question. One hopes the Zoning Board and the Borough Council have. The layman would suppose that either the Borough or PSI will soon have to build new parking lots if this application is approved. With new parking lots it would no doubt become attractive to construct new buildings and we could welcome more automobiles. Who would say goodbye to those Princetonians whose houses would come down?

THE LAUNDRY

MARK STORY

This little mark . . . really a series of letters and numbers . . . printed either on the shirt tail or inside the collar often tells a story. Not only does it tell in what cities or towns the shirt has been laundered, but what laundry or laundries in the communities have performed the service. We at the Washomat have been making a study of the laundry marks on the shirts that come to us. We note a trend in that shirts have been laundered by one, two, often three or four other local laundries before they come to us. It would seem that the owners of said shirts are "shopping around" for a laundry whose performance meets their specifications. We also note with great pride that these very "laundry-travelled" shirts stay with Washomat once our laundry mark has been added. Why not let us add our mark to your shirts, and enjoy our quality shirt service. The Washomat, 258 and 259 Nassau Street.

Falling Glass Cuts Two

Two spectators at Saturday's Princeton-Rutgers football game were cut, neither seriously, by glass that fell from a broken window in the Palmer Stadium press box.

Edward E. Watts, III, a Princeton student, received three stitches in his scalp and was treated for cuts of the face and hands at the University infirmary. John J. Lackey, Jr., of 222 North Harrison Street was treated and bandaged at the game by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

The accidents occurred when rope holding a press box window open snapped, the window slammed shut, breaking the glass. The broken glass fell onto the corrugated roof of the press box and slid down into the stands.

MAAZEL CONDUCTS
French National Orchestra.
The new season of Princeton University Concerts opened on Tuesday evening at McCarter Theatre with a program played by the French National Orchestra known more formally as "L'Orchestre National de la Radiodiffusion-Télévision Française", under the direction of the young American conductor Lorin Maazel.
The program, which could hardly be described as adventurous, included the "Ballade" Symphony of Mendelssohn, Stravinsky's "Petrouchka" (altogether complete), Debussy's "Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun," and — surprise! — the Second Suite from Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloé", without which, it seems, no conductor considers a concert in Princeton to be complete.

It is to be hoped that the Concerts Committee can find some satisfactory way of preventing further repetitions of this particular chestnut, which we have now heard three times in the past four years. Perhaps a list of other loud noises with which to conclude programs could be made available to orchestras suffering from lack of imagination. Unfortunately, it cannot be said that the French National Orchestra makes up for its lack of imagination by demonstrating an exceptionally high standard of orchestral playing — nor were the anxieties caused by the failure to tune up on stage before the concert quelled by much evidence during the performance that any great care had been taken about this matter before the players came on stage. Inattention throughout the evening varied from fair to downright poor; certain of the woodwinds being most conspicuously delinquent in this respect.

On the credit side can be mentioned the piano soloist in "Petrouchka," and the flute soloist in Debussy's "Ballade" works, although his high standard was never matched by his associates, especially at the beginning of the Ravel's spot where we have had clarinet trouble once before. On the whole, it was a good hour of the program.

To reserve a subscription, students may write to P.O. Box 433, Princeton. Blocks of tickets may be reserved by calling WA 4-4663 between 2 and 4 p.m. or WA 4-3569 evenings.

program could be said to present-day standards. In this sort of thing, with the general qualifications already noted above, the French "Roman Carnival" Overture, presented as an encore, was also fairly effective — clearly of vigor, and much subtlety.

In the first half of the program, Mr. Maazel must be accused of at least one error of judgment: the omission of the repeat of the exposition in the first movement of the Mendelssohn. Often in the 19th century, this repeat was indicated merely for the sake of convention, but since here Mendelssohn has gone to the trouble of composing a passage of some 20 measures leading back to the opening of the movement, we may take it that he intended the repeat to be made in fairness to Mr. Maazel, it may be pointed out that he is not the first offender in this respect. Arturo Toscanini being among his more celebrated predecessors.

Some of Mr. Maazel's other ideas in the Mendelssohn do not commend themselves in this corner, such as the disregard for the tempo articulation at the beginning of the first movement's coda, the way in which the tempo of the Trio was allowed progressively to slow down, and the alteration of some timpani passages in the last movement. Some nice things were achieved, however, sooner or later, a scramble in the strings or some cacophony in the winds occurred to mark one's pleasure.

In this year of Stravinsky's canonization, "Petrouchka" is hardly news any more, but it certainly was a surprise to hear the composer's old concert ending (a very unsatisfactory makeshift) instead of the original ballet finale, which only takes a few more minutes, and adds a good deal to the coherence of the work. This coherence suffered still more, however, from the rhythmic disjunctions of the performance, transitions between sections of different meter and texture were often not smooth, the conductor failing to attend to the conclusion of one matter while he got set for the next one (as, for example, in the burly episode in the first tableau). With all of this, the performance did have its moments; Mr. Maazel's future should be watched with interest.

VIOLINIST TO PLAY
In New Hope Series, Sonya Monosoff, violinist, will play this Sunday with Igor Kipnis, harpsichordist, in a recital to be given by the New Hope Music Series at the Centre Bridge Inn, three miles above New Hope, on River Road across the Delaware from Stockton, N.J.
For their program, which will begin at 3 p.m., Miss Monosoff and Mr. Kipnis will draw upon the works of Corelli, Vivaldi, Mozart, Scarlatti and J.S. Bach. No advance reservations are necessary.
Praised for their wealth of insight and sympathy, for the music, Miss Monosoff and Mr. Kipnis have also been cited for their high accomplishments and their ability to present "a most satisfactory concert." Mr. Kipnis is the son of Alexander Kipnis, the noted basso.

TWO CONCERTS ADDED
To University Series. Two quartets will come to Princeton during the 1962-63 concert season to present programs outside the announced list: 1. Series I and Series II of the Princeton University Concert Series.
2. The Loewenzuth Quartet from France will play in McCosh Hall at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, December 5, and the Pergamini Quartet from California on Monday, February 25 at the same time and place.

Tickets are $1.50 and $2.50 for each concert, and may be ordered by sending a check payable to Princeton University Concerts to Mrs. Mackenzy Bryan, 12 South Middle Reunion Hill in Princeton University. A stamped, self-addressed envelope should be enclosed. Tickets will also be on sale at the University Store two weeks before the concert, and at the door, if any are left.

Chico Hamilton

CHICO COMING
Unhindered, "Without inhibitions, flexible and free" (the "free" referring to style and not to ticket cost) is the way Chico Hamilton talks about his Quintet, due to open the fall program of the Student Entertainment Bureau this Saturday at 8:30. Chico and his five will play in McCarter.
Drums, bass, guitar, tenor and trombone are involved in the Quintet, playing a sound described as warm, sensuous and refreshing, a kind of soft, foot-tapping jazz that has found considerable favor with people who buy Chico's Columbia records.
Formerly associated with Duke Ellington, Count Basie and Gerry Mulligan, Chico has also served as accompanist for such stars as Lena Horne, Harry Belafonte, Sammy Davis, Jr. and Ella Fitzgerald.
Subsequent efforts by the Student Entertainment Bureau will bring to Princeton Lloyd Price and The Coasters (Friday, October 19, Dillon Gym) and The Journeymen (Saturday, November 10, Dillon Gym).
Tickets for Chico Hamilton may be purchased at the University Store and McCarter Theatre.

renceville, and Calvin B. Bond, Pierison Drive, Fenns Neck,
as minors in possession of alcohol, 19, were fined $35 each
as minors in possession of alcohol. They were arrested Friday evening on Nassau Street by Lt. Francis Maguire and Patrolman Russell Shangle.

COME EARLY

Says Adult School. The Princeton Adult School has asked students to plan to arrive early for their classes in order to minimize the parking problems that have been created by one of the largest enrollments in the school's history.

The School said it may be necessary to park cars a block or two from Princeton High School, where classes are held.
Students who park in restricted areas or who double park have in the past made it difficult for other drivers to leave.

This Thursday Herbert H.
Smith, president of his own planning firm in Trenton, will speak in the lecture series of the Community and Regional Planning. Thomas Hilbush, director of Vocational Training at High School, will speak in the series on Music Through the Ages.

On October 11, the speakers will be Charles K. Agle, Princeton architect and planning consultant, and Richard Keliman, a member of the music department at Princeton University. Individual admissions are available in each series.

PROBLEMS CONSOLIDATION WILL SOLVE BEST FOR YOU

WATER

Do You Remember...

- When the Water Company had so little foresight about water needs that Princeton was the only place in this area to have its water rationed?
- When some faucets went dry last spring—when there wouldn't have been enough pressure for fire-fighting?
- When mysterious contamination made some water unfit to drink?
- When people found insect larvae in their drinking water?

And Do You Realize that...

- Being privately owned, Water Company transactions are secret, and the public has no information on this important utility?
- Being privately owned, the Company's first obligation is to its stockholders, not to the people it is supposed to serve?
- You, the consumer, have no control over its efficiency, its planning—or its lack of planning?

SEWERS

Do You Remember...

- When raw sewage backed up into kitchens and bathrooms on Prospect Avenue Extension?
- When sewer pressure on Valley Road hurled 70 lb. manhole covers into the air?
- When sewers overflowed last spring into storm drains emptying into Lake Carnegie, turning the lake into an open cess-pool?

Do You Realize that...

- Sewers in the West End are so antiquated, the oldest in town, that they must be replaced soon? That it will cost more to replace them than to build new lines?
- The main trunk lines, into which both Borough and Township sewers lead, are overloaded and clogged? That they will need expensive and extensive repairs any day?
- Sewer maintenance is borne 38% by the Township, 44% by the Borough, 18% by the University—regardless of latest census figures?

These unsafe and unhealthy conditions can be corrected by:

1. Ownership of the Water Company by a consolidated government of all of Princeton. (80% of U.S. cities have found municipal ownership economical, successful.)
2. Control of sewerage under one effective body responsible to one consolidated Princeton government.

Consolidation can be accomplished without loss of jobs or change of status by people in Borough and Township educational systems, police forces, fire department, or in municipal government offices and bureaus. Consolidation can be accomplished without creating unfair tax burdens, because the law permits setting differential tax rates, based on existing debts.

YES! FOR Y.E.S.

Youth Service Reports. Since the Youth Employment Service opened on May 15, 1961, it has registered 753 young people and made 1,669 job placements, according to a report submitted at the annual meet- of YES held last week at the YMCA.

The report also stated that 68 business firms in Princeton have asked for help from the Service. Mrs. Conrail D. Perkins, co-executive director of the YES office, said that 13 communities in New Jersey have asked for information about Princeton's service and six have sent representatives here for discussions.

Board members from Princeton have worked closely with Morristown and Plainfield to help these communities establish youth employment ser- vices, said Mrs. Douglas Langston, president, in making her report.

New officers and members of the board of directors were elected at the annual meeting. Mrs. Langston was re-elected to the position of president. Other officers are: Mrs. L. Valdemar Silvestre, Jr., first vice-president; Lewis S. Kraft, sec- ond vice-president; Mrs. Raymond F. Male, secretary and William Hilgendorf, Jr., treas- urer.

New board members are: Medames Marver H. Bern- stein, Frederick Barrell, David Parnes and Janet Humes, and new members of the volunteer office staff are: Medames Ben- jamin in Shimbarg, Theodore Slossen, George Barrie, H. Gil- bert Nicol and Alfred Sommer.

The Youth Employment Service is open to young peo- ple from 14 years and attend- ing the 8th grade, through 19 years. Registrants must live in Princeton or go to school in Princeton. The YES office is on the ground floor of Dorothea House, 129 John Street, and is open from 1-5 daily and 9-noon Saturday.

TO PROMOTE HOUSING

On "Open" Basis. A clear- ing-house for home-buyers, home-sellers and renters who believe in the principle of open occupancy, will be es- tablished this fall by the YWCA in the "Y" building on Avalon Place.

Volunteers will be available at the "Y" from 1-4 on Wed- nesdays, Thursdays and Fri- days to acquaint prospective Negro buyers with the Prince- ton housing market and to work with the Princeton Housing Group in locating homes.

The committee will also wel- come calls from Princeton resi- dents willing to sell or rent without discrimination. The number for the clearing house is WA 4-4825, ext. 26, and the "Y" has asked that all phone calls relating to the program be made during the days and hours listed above.

In describing the program, the Public Affairs Committee

Question of the Week

Question: In your opinion, should a person who is incurably ill be told the truth?

Where asked: Around town

Ray Wadsworth, 32 Spruce Street, Princeton Water Co. employee: No, I feel if a person is told that he is going to die, he might just give up. They shouldn't be told because in many cases it would hurt their feelings. If a man loves to go fishing and you tell him he isn't going to be able to fish much longer, that could kill him right there. And there is no guarantee that a doctor's prediction that a person is going to die is not subject to error.

Elmer J. Rodweller, 18 Chestnut Street, retired police: Man I feel the same way. A person shouldn't be told because it would affect him emotionally. If a person knew he were going to die, he wouldn't try to help himself. A doctor should try to be on the side of the patient and encourage him. He should keep their hopes up and treat them as long as it is possible.

Mrs. Peter LeBeris, Cherry Valley Road, estimator, Princeton Printing Company: I think it depends on the person. There are people who would rather know, who worry more when they are not told all the facts. And there are people who would kill if they were told. I think most doctors are qualified to judge their patients whether it would be in the best interests of the patient to divulge this. I think it is a matter between the doctor and the person he is treating.

Mrs. Hilde Cavanaugh, Skillman housewife: I wouldn't want to know if I were in that situation. I think it would make everyone else to be told. I think so. Why joke about it? If you're sick, you're sick. I know I'd want to know.

William Brown, 168 John Street, truck driver: Yes, I think so. Why joke about it? If you're sick, you're sick. I know I'd want to know.

Mrs. Alfred Baird, 301 Nassau Street, housewife: Depends on the person, whether it's a neurotic or not. If he can take it, I think he should be told. If not, I'd just not tell him or kid along. I would like to be told so you can make plans and not have the family in a stew.

Mrs. James Hayes, 308 Dods Lane, housewife: No, I don't think so. I think it is much kinder for them not to know. I feel if they do know or find out, they will give up. I think a person will very often fight illness if he believes there is hope of some kind.

Miss Sabina Melody, 151 Hamilton Avenue, waitress: Yes, I think people who have money and property should think carefully about what they want to do with it and make out their wills. That's one thought.

Donald Briggs, 7 Greenview Avenue, painter: I don't think so. I think you give them more to worry about and probably make them a lot sicker than they actually are. I don't see any advantage in telling them.

Mrs. William Holston, Southview Way, housewife: I think so. I think people want to face up to the truth always. They feel cheated otherwise.

Ned Nabers, Titusville, graduate student in archaeology: I think it depends mainly on the circumstances and above all on the individual concerned. It would depend on their mental stability and also the desires of the closest of kin.

Mrs. Robert Gilpin, 48 Murray Place, housewife: That would depend on a person's emotional and mental strength. Some people are capable of understanding and facing life and death. Some are not.

Mrs. Judith Walter, 18 N. Macaworth Drive, housewife: Yes, because if it's his life and he's losing it, it seems immoral, to me, not to tell.

Barry Nolan, Foulke Hall, university junior: Yes, I think so. There may be certain things he hasn't done which he feels he wants to do before his life ends. He should be given a chance to fulfill these desires. I think any person should want to know if he were incurably ill.

Joseph E. Bachelder, Riverside Drive, director of industrial advertising, Research Institute: That depends entirely on the person and the doctor, and what the doctor knows about the patient, and the relationship between the doctor and the patient. The doctor.

the family and the patient himself should be considered before any decision is made.

Mrs. Katrina Staten, 301 Nassau Street, housewife: Yes, I think they should be. I feel it is a question of honesty. A person shouldn't be kept in the dark, so to speak. A person has no control over whether he becomes incurably ill or not and I think any person in his right mind would want to know. There may be some exceptions where there is a question of honesty. It would be detrimental to the person's health to be completely honest but, when one is incurably ill, as you state in your question, then I think they

I think they should be told, if they are in command of their mental faculties, is that they can make spiritual decisions which perhaps they haven't dealt with seriously before this time. At least they would have the chance to know ahead of time and begin to start thinking about these things.

Mrs. L. H. Meakin, Princeton, housewife: Yes, I think so because I think a person has a chance for recovery when it's the truth. Some people let these things go until the last minute and then, if not told, they might become mentally and physically incapable of attending to them.

A Statement of Fact
From the President,
OIL HEAT COUNCIL of New Jersey

IRVING OELBAUM

THE ACTUAL FIGURES

There's been a lot of confusion recently about the number of homes using various fuels in our state.

It's high time somebody gave the New Jersey public the straight facts and I can't think of a better authority than the United States Census of 1960. Here's what this source reports:

Number of Households in N. J. ....	1,806,100
HOUSEHOLDS USING OILHEAT .....	1,135,300
Households Using Utility Gas .....	446,200
Households Using Coal & Coke .....	184,400
Bottled LP Gas .....	20,700
Electricity .....	4,400
Wood .....	3,800
Other .....	5,800
None .....	5,500

These are the statistics. OILHEAT is more than 2½ times more popular than its nearest competitor.

WHAT PEOPLE LIKE ABOUT OILHEAT

OILHEAT is crystal clean — there are no dangerous fumes to worry about.

OILHEAT offers security of supply — an ample supply right in your own storage tank where you know you can depend on it.

OILHEAT offers complete service — not just the flame in your burner.

OILHEAT offers the public a wide choice of responsible dealers — none of whom has a monopoly.

OILHEAT is a thrifty fuel as proved by "The Engineers' Report" . . . an independent survey of all the major home heating fuels in the state.

Your OILHEAT dealer is prepared to give you all the facts about all the home heating fuels available in our state. He will answer your questions honestly and simply. Why not phone him soon? You'll discover — as have over a million Jersey families — that he's a good man to know . . . and he appreciates your business.

RALPH HULLT NAMED

To Welfare Board, Ralph D. Hullt of 110 Moore Street has been named by Mayor Patterson to the Local Assistance Board of the Borough.

He will fill the unexpired term of the late John J. Collins, and will be up for re-appointment at the end of the year. Mr. Hullt is president of Hullt's Inc., Nassau Street shoe store.

$1962 IN 1962

UNICEF Goal Set. A goal of $1962 has been set for this year by UNICEF.

Princeton area youngsters, displaying "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" labels, will conduct a door-to-door campaign on the evening of October 27, the Saturday before Halloween. Further funds will be collected by a "King and Queen of UNICEF" contest at a dance following the drive. Casting of a vote will require a contribution.

CAPTAINS NAMED

In PHS Drive. Twenty-two neighborhood captains have been named to direct the drive for newspaper and magazine subscriptions that is being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of Princeton High School.

They are Mrs. R. K. Anderson, Mrs. E. W. Beste, Mrs. Donald Carroll, Mrs. Coleman Craft, Mrs. John Schuler, Mrs. T. S. Deering, Mrs. R. B. Dinmore, Mrs. George Goldsmith, Mrs. Seward Hiltner, Mrs. James Hosford, Mrs. Charles Mueller, Mrs. Carl V. Olson, Mrs. G. W. Rake.

Also, Mrs. James L. Reed, Mrs. Gale Smok, Mrs. Frank M. Somers, Mrs. Stanley Stein, Mrs. Jon-Lough Tobin, Mrs. J. C. Wheeler, Mrs. M. S. Winters, Mrs. Franklin Young and Mrs. Kenneth Conover.

Proceeds from the drive will be used to provide scholarships for seniors who will graduate this June. A total of 134 women are participating in the drive, which opens this week.

AUTHOR TO SPEAK

To West Windsor PTA. Mrs. Mary Folsom, author of books for children of all ages, will speak Wednesday, October 10, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of West Windsor School at a meeting of the West Windsor Township Parent-Teacher Association.

The program is planned in conjunction with the PTA's annual Book Fair, which will be October 10, 11 and 12. The hours will be 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at West Windsor School and 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. at the Penns Neck School.

SORORITY TO MEET

To Discuss Projects. Delta Gamma alumnae who live in the Princeton-Delaware Valley area will gather Monday at 8 at the home of Mrs. James C. Villwock, 57 Cambridge Road, Franklin Park, for a general business meeting.

During the meeting, alumnae will discuss their fund-raising projects for the coming year. The sorority has long been associated with work for the blind and the visually handicapped and in the Princeton area, they give volunteer assistance to Recording for the Blind, Inc.

Proceeds from the annual sale of pecans and calendars are used to support the sorority's charitable enterprises.

50th FOR KIRCHERS

On October 10, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kircher of 14 Stanley Avenue will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary next Wednesday. They were married October 10, 1912, in Jersey City.

Mr. Kircher, a retired sewer inspector, and his wife have lived in Princeton since 1929. They have two daughters, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Both of their children are married and living in Princeton. Muriel is now Mrs. John Dilworth and lives next door to her parents at 22 Stanley Avenue. Dorothy is now Mrs. William Ferrara of Mount Lucas Road.

Mrs. Kircher is a native of New York City. Her husband was born in Jersey City where both grew up. Mrs. Dilworth will hold a celebration for her parents at her home on the 13th.

John H. Goida, a student of Westminster Choir College, is director of the Lawrence Township Community chorus, sponsored by the Township Recreation Center. Those interested are invited to join the chorus, which meets every Tuesday night at the Lawrence Junior High School.

Miss Dolores Goldsborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Goldsborough of 96 Einstein Drive, has returned to her studies at Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va. She is a member of the senior class.

Wiltard Thorp, Holmes Professor of Belles-Lettres at Princeton University, will give an address at Connecticut College, New London, Conn., on October 19. The occasion will be the inauguration of Connecticut's sixth president, Dr. Charles E. Shain. Dr. Shain received his bachelor's master's and doctoral degrees at Princeton.

Mrs. Esther Roberts of 44 Mercer, a teacher of trainable children in the Township will be a moderator at a workshop to be presented by the Central New Jersey Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children. The program will take place on Saturday, October 6, at the New Jersey School for the Deaf, West Trenton.

Bruce L. Mullinix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Park Mullinix of 60 Dadds Lane, has begun his junior year at National College, Kansas City, Mo. National College is a four-year, co-educational liberal arts college supported by the Women's Division of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church.

John M. Reeder of Hun Road has been named "Man of the Year" by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company in the Thomas M. Miner Agency. Mr. Reeder is a six-time winner of the firm's National Quality Award. He is active in the Mercer County Estate Planning Council, the Mercer County Society of Chartered Life Underwriters and is an officer and director of the Delaware Valley Association of Life Underwriters.

Three Pennington residents were among 34 senior members of the New Jersey State Highway Department to receive service awards at the Department's annual ceremony in Trenton. The recipients, who have been employed in the Department for 35 years, are John J. Frascella, 117 West Welling Avenue, Joseph Walden, Route 69, R.D. 1, and Anthony Esposito, 416 Hale Street.

FIFTY GOLDEN YEARS: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kircher, 14 Stanley Avenue, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. After a half-century of experience, Mrs. Kircher offers this advice for harmony: "Don't both get angry at the same time—one has to know when to keep quiet."

David N. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Kelley of 213 Hun Road, has completed week at Goucher College, Baltimore, Md. The students are Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Mr. Kelley participated in a nine-week indoctrination which included programs in physical fitness, kessie military law and military drill.

Jonathan B. Morey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan T. Morey of 210 Mountain Avenue, will begin his freshman studies at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., next week. A graduate of Princeton High School last June where he was editor-in-chief of The Ivy, Mr. Morey plans to study law or journalism.

Three area residents are

Montpelier, Vt. A graduate of Princeton High School, Miss Peterson is majoring in child study.

Kenneth Maxwell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Maxwell of 203 Laurel Circle, and Jed Bernhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Bernhart, who now live at Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa Beach, Fla., have been pledged to Kappa Sigma fraternity at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. Both are members of the freshman class and 1962 graduates of Princeton High School.

Constance Madeira, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford C. Madeira of 79 Lafayette Road, has begun her sophomore year at Stoneleigh-Prospect, Hill School, Greenfield, Mass. She is among 132 students from 18 states and three foreign countries attending the school.

Peter A. Holmes, son of Mrs. Charlotte S. Holmes of 301 Nassau Street, has been elected secretary of the Psychology Club at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa. He is a 1958 graduate of Princeton High School.

Richard K. Olsson of 258 Moore Street has been named director of the Geological Museum at Rutgers University. He will continue his duties as assistant professor of geology. A 1953 Rutgers graduate, Mr. Olsson served as assistant field geologist with the Sococo vacuum Oil Co. in 1953, was a research assistant at Rutgers in 1953-54 and a graduate instructor at Princeton from 1954-56.

He returned to Rutgers in 1957 as instructor in geology. The Geological Museum houses collections of minerals, fossils, rocks, stone implements, prehistoric skeletons and other specimens.

EXHIBIT PLANNED

For Bank Anniversary, The Princeton Bank and Trust Company will have an exhibit on "The Story of Productivity" on display at its three offices beginning Monday. It will commemorate the bank's 128th anniversary.

The presentation covers 157 events and inventions that contributed to the industrial revolution. It also provides a simplified study of modern economies. The exhibit will have three areas—"Tools That Created Civilization," "Development of the Industrial Revolution" and "Why Living Improves in America."

The exhibit will be shown during banking hours. It will continue through Friday, October 19.

ZARKER NAMED

To Advisory Group, Harold E. Zarker, vice-president of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, has been appointed to the advisory council of the American Bankers Association Savings Division for the coming year.

The council includes representatives from all states. It functions as a source of leadership, advice and assistance to the Association's officers and staff members responsible for the division's work. Mr. Zarker also serves as secretary of the electronics committee of the New Jersey Bankers Association.

PHIPPS ASSUMES TITLE
To "Scientists' Sanctuary," Title to 527 acres on U.S. 1 north of Penns Neck Circle has been taken by the Henry Phipps Estates of New York for the industrial research center announced last April.

The land was sold by William Flemer, Jr., president of Princeton Nurseries, Inc., and by St. Joseph's College. Known as the "Princeton Center for Industrial Research," the project was hailed as a "sanctuary for scientists" by Governor Richard J. Hughes.

The campus for research plants and related offices and the nearby residential community, "Heathcote Houses," are expected to bring tax rates of about $50 million to Plainsboro and South Brunswick Townships, according to James E. Hiley, Jr., Phipps vice president. Plans include a 100-room motor inn with restaurant and conference rooms.

Joint sponsors are the Phipps Estates, real estate investors; James King and Company, general contractors, New York City; and John Graham and Company, architectural and engineering firm of New York and Seattle.

The center is not scheduled for completion before 1968.

WEISGERER PROMOTED
By Western Electric, Clarence A. Weisgerer has been named assistant superintendent, plant engineering, at Western Electric's research center on Carter Road in Hopewell Township.

Mr. Weisgerer first joined the Bell System in 1951 as an assistant engineer. He participated in Western Electric's management training program in 1960 and was assigned to Chicago in charge of engineering training before his transfer here two years ago.

He holds a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Bradley University and a Master of Business Administration from the University of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Weisgerer and their four children are living in University Park, Lawrence Township.

ENGINEER PROMOTED

At Western Electric, James N. Sorner has been promoted from planning engineer to senior planning engineer at Western Electric Company's Engineering Research Center in Hopewell Township. He has been employed by the company since 1952.

A graduate of the University of Tennessee that same year, he first worked as a field engineer in Western Electric's Defense Activities Division before coming a member of the firm's Technical Information Department. Mr. Sorner and his wife are taking up residence in Lawrence Township.

TWO POINTS THAT PUT TIGERS AHEAD TO STAY: Captain Dan Terpack turns Searlet's right end on conversion try in first period. Greg Riley (44), a potential receiver on the pass-option play, turned blocker to remove John Hiri (67), Rutgers guard, from contention. Terpack met Bill Herring (22), defensive halfback, at goal line and butted his way into end zone to give Tigers 8-7 lead.

Sports In Princeton
So authoritative was the Tigers' running game at this stage of the close, well-played contest that they never once resorted to the air. Until Merlank range, Princeton averaged better than five yards per carry—and yet so methodical was the offense that it craved almost a full ten minutes from the clock.
Hard hit by graduation, Rutgers proved not to be quite too deep at some positions, and its personnel in action during the fourth quarter was visibly tired. Sharp in contrast, Princeton used players who were second and sometimes third on the depth chart without loss of striking power on offense or performance on defense. It is an asset that will make Dick Calman's team particularly hard to handle in the second half throughout the 1962 season.

Riley A Standout. On a dozen of the 21 climactic plays in the fourth quarter, tailback Greg Riley was the ball carrier, sweeping the ends, slashing through tackle and, on one occasion, bursting through the middle from eight yards out to reach the end zone.

An oddside penalty killed that, but he gained 11 yards on the next down through the same sector and two swipes at the middle of the massed Searlet line took Merlini across. Both Tiger ball carriers gave fine performances: Riley carried 18 times for a 46 average, completed four of eight passes and totalled 125 yards; Merlini added 51 yards and compiled a 4.5 average.

It was a good Rutgers team that Princeton defeated to end the visitors' 12-game winning streak. The Searlet's first unit has an extremely able quarterback in big Bob Yakusick, 146 yards, including eight of 14 passes; two good ball carriers in Bill Thompson and Drew Carroll and a big, capable line in which center Jon Paulson and end Bill Craft were the standouts.

Thereafter, however, the losers tailed off in depth more quickly than anyone, including possibly Coach John Batesman, had suspected. For example, no Rutgers quarterback save Yakusick, put a play in motion all afternoon, although he was occasionally spelled on defense; the losers went with just three tacklers after big George Elias departed on a stretcher with a sprained knee, and the starting guards and Paulson played twice as long as their immediate replacements.

Rutgers threw a scare into Princeton by going 50 yards in five plays the second time it came into possession. It was chopping up the Tigers' line fairly effectively, aided by some sloppy early-season tackling.

The home team struck back early in the second quarter, covering 41 yards in half a dozen plays, the TD coming on a magnificent catch of a Greg Riley aerial by Barry Schuman just inside the goal line. After one effort for a two-point conversion failed, but yielded another try because of a call against Rutgers for pass interference, Captain Dan Terpack ran the reverse-pass option beautifully, bulging his 165-pound frame into the end zone when two tacklers hung back to defend against Riley and Schuman as potential receivers.

No Serious Injuries. Despite the rugged quality of the contest, Princeton came through the game in good shape and belief was that the three players who could not finish will be ready this weekend. End Harry Schuman, center Bob Burrus and wingback Jim Kokenbach all limped off during second half action, but none was listed as a major casualty.

Several newcomers provided much to brighten the picture. Among them were Ron Rogers and Bill Guedel, both of whom were standouts as freshmen but are seeing their first varsity action as juniors.

Both are tackles, and each lived up to the literal name of his position all over the field. A pair of sophomore ends, Bill Robinson and Jim Batcheller, gave sound performances in filling in for Schuman, lending needed depth to a position that had caused the coaching staff concern.

The all-around play of Captain Dan Terpack was cited by Colman in his post-game press conference, as was the ball-carrying of Bill Merlini and the performances of Tim Callard and reserve center Bill Crano in the line. The Tiger coach felt the game had been won by superior line play, and called the contest "our best before the Little Tiger tailback had gained seven yards in an end sweep. The play came with 20 seconds remaining in Saturday's contest. (Staff Photo)

This is a highly promising Princeton squad, one that will develop quickly as it goes along because of the fine balance between ability and depth. It is at least an even bet to win all of its October games—Columbia, Penn. College and Cornell do not appear to have the personnel to cope with this solid outfit.

Columbia this weekend appears in for real trouble. In years other than last fall, when the Lions rose far above their normal degree of ability, the scores in the series were 43-0, 47-0 and 49-0. Even with the bench-clearing act, Saturday's result should be something similar.

PHS SEEKS FIRST WIN

Against Hackettstown. For the first and only time this season, the Princeton High School football team will journey outside the confines of Mercer County on Saturday, traveling to meet Hackettstown High School. The Little Tigers will be seeking their first victory after losing their second straight contest of the season here on Saturday to Emerson, 20 to 13.

For the third consecutive week, PHS will be meeting a team it has never played before. (Four of its eight opponents are newcomers to its 1962 schedule.) Blue and White coach Dick Wood reported that Hackettstown was good on defense and good on offense. "They're a small team but they are perennially good. They're good," he added, "but I don't think they are any better than we are."

Though Wood and his staff may be unfamiliar with Hackettstown, there is nothing secretive about its past record. It is a solid one. In fact, it is phenomenal. In the past 33 years, Charles "Chot" Morrison's eleven have swept to a remarkable 223-12 record. In this span, 12 Orange and Black teams have been undefeated and 15 have been Group I champions.

As usual, Morrison started his 34th season—the longest of any active high school coach in the state—on the right foot when his team ran up 23 points to defeat in its first game. The Little Tigers, Hackettstown was the single wing and Saturday's encounter should be a bruising, hard-nosed contest. The game will start at 2.

Mistakes Costly. Sloppy playing by the Little Tigers in the first half cost them the Emerson game. "I've never seen so many mistakes as I saw in the first half," said Wood. Two of the most flagrant ones led directly to Emerson scores.

The first came in the opening minutes of the second quarter, with Emerson leading 7 to 0. On a third and 15 situation, tailback John Kowalski fumbled the snapback and the visitors recovered on the PHS 9. Three plays later, Frank Albrecht crashed over from the three on a crossback for the Bulldog's 13th point.

PHS returned the following kickoff to its own 27. Three running plays netted seven yards. Then, with a fourth and three situation, quarterback and team captain Tom Reynolds lost count of the downs. Instead of punting he called for another running play. It

KOWALSKI EN ROUTE FOR SEVEN-YARD ADVANCE: Three determined Emerson tacklers pursue Princeton High's John Kowalski before pushing him out of bounds, but not before the Little Tiger tailback had gained seven yards in an end sweep. JOHN HENRICH Princeton Quarterback

One of the most unusual performances staged by a Princeton football team in the long history of Palmer Stadium was unfolded Saturday, and the player chiefly responsible for it was wholly overlooked in Sunday's sports pages. In a picturesque display of single wing football, the Tigers marched 96 yards on the ground under the direction, and facilitated by the deadly blocking, of John Henrich.

Single wing football virtually obliterates the quarterback from public—and even the sportswriters'—attention. Occasionally a passer receiver, even more infrequently a ball carrier, he is in the backfield primarily to call the plays and block for the other guys. Last week, John Henrich did both to near perfection.

Aided by the new rule which permits the kicking team to down a punt within the ten-yard line, Rutgers had batted the ball down on the Princeton yard. Had the Tiger attack been contained in an area where passing was as unthinkable as with a one-point lead, the visitors might well have rallied to make it five in a row.

Instead, Henrich mixed power and deception with his calls, paving the way for Greg Riley, Bill Merrill and Captain Dan Tepper to run steadily through and around the Rutgers line. Dick Colman called it "an incredible exhibition of single wing football that would have been impossible for Charlie Caldwell's heart."

Big, burly and filled with the pleasure of knocking the other guy down, the 205-lb. Henrich serves as a linebacker on defense, showing steadily ability to diagnose the varied versions of T football that other teams serve up to the Tigers. By the end of the current season, he'll set a personal record held by less than half a dozen players. Since two-way football returned to the scene a decade ago, he will have started all 27 games of his varsity career. Indications are that Princeton football is in for a big year. John Henrich is a big reason.

fell short and Emerson took over on the home team 34. Once again, coach Joe "Pop" Novaty's players were able to capitalize. Alvarez went up the middle for 14 yards through a porous defense. After three plays had miscarried, Alvarez passed 16 yards on fourth down to halfback Joe DeSantis for the TD. Alvarez then kicked his second PAT conversion for the afternoon to put his team in front, 20-0.

DeSantis intercepts. B.A. play-calling, which was one of the components that Wood attributed to his team's defeat, led to Emerson's first tally. After PHS had taken the opening kick-off and driven downfield to the Building 11, it elected to go to the air with disastrous results. Kowalski's short pass sailed just over the outstretched hands of Ed Mueller into those of DeSantis, who picked it off on the eight and raced upfield, along the sidelines, to the PHS 45.

Tom "The Bomb" Moretti drove to the 30. A pass play carried to the one-foot line from where DeSantis bucked over for the six-point half in decisive fashion with a big assist from Princeton High.

The second half was all Princeton. It was marked by some fine, exciting running by a pair of sophomore backs. Bill Aiken drove up the middle from the tailback slot for several good gains.

His play should, in the future, help to plug up the left by the grateful Coach Pemberton. Smith and light, Paul Walstad, who scored both PHS touchdowns, as his team rolled by repeatedly sweeping the ends for sizeable yardage.

Walstad Scored. Early in the third period, an Emerson pass was deflected and intercepted by Bob Riley who returned it to the Emerson 26. After two running plays, Art Brooks carried to the eight for a first down. Sticking to the ground, PHS scored when Walstad squirted up the middle behind some crisp blocking. Reynold's kick for the conversion was low.

A fumbled punt by an Emerson receiver on his own 40 was recovered by Larry Madden and set up PHS's final score with seven minutes remaining. In three straight carries, Aiken plunged to the eight, showing lots of power. Three ground plays got nowhere.

On fourth down, Walstad circled left and after Reynolds had sent a flanker out to the right as a decoy, Jim Wheeler passed to Madden for the PAT.

The home team gave all it had to tie it up. With less than a minute to play, PHS took over on its own 30. A pass, Madden to Russo, was good for a first down on the 43.

A seven-yard sweep around end by Kowalski set up precious time. On the last play of the game, Kowalski's pass was intercepted.

Inexperience Cited. At the end of the game, Wood commented that he thought his team had played better this week than it had in the opener. "We'll be even stronger next week," he said. "It's just inexperience all up and down the line. We have good material there. It is just a matter of bringing it out so they can work together and not make as many mistakes as they did today."

Lack of any reliable defense both on the ground and in the air was another PHS weakness to which Wood pointed. "We were weak again on pass defense and they killed us up through the middle." The Little Tigers were further weakened by the absence of Alan Abelson who did not play because of a religious holiday, and Jack Britten, still out with an injured hand. "I can't wait to get Britten back in there to shore up the defense," said Wood.

Proof that the defense just isn't there are the scores that have been rolled up against the Blue and White. Last season, the most points against it in any one game was 18. In

The first two games this year, the opposition has scored 46 runs. Against Emerson, the defensive play of Jim McKee-yer and Peter Weber excelled but it wasn't enough.

One final indictment of the Little Tigers on Saturday was the impotence of the passing.
To date, their passes have been falling short or have been intercepted with embarrassing regularity. They have yet to show even the semblance of a passing game. Rather, it has proven to be a two-edged sword, hurting the Little Tigers more than it has the opposition.

HUN LOSER OPENER

Faces Perkinson Saturday.
The Hun School, 22-12 victim of Pennington in its opener, will play Perkinson here on Saturday at 2:30. The game will be Perkinson's first of the season.

Hun coach Hawley Waterman reported that he did not know anything about the team from the Pennington, Pa.
school. "We've beaten them
two years in a row so I imagine they'll be close to get us.
It should be a close, hard-fought game."

Against Pennington, Waterman said it was a case of "too many passes and too many end runs. They never ran our interior line; they just ran our ends all day. We moved the ball pretty well; we just couldn't stop them when it counted."

Serving the Red Raiders' cause was an injury to Hans end, Dave Richards, early in the second quarter. Pennington was quick to exploit the weakened position and ran successfully, for a yard a game around end thereafter. Actually, Hun had the edge in first downs and in both rushing and passing yardage but it was Pennington which was able to come up with the big play.

Led by quarterback Steve Fox, Pennington scored first in the opening quarter on a 72-yard march. The touchdown play was a pitchout from Fox to halfback Glenn Pike that covered 53 yards. Fox then passed to Pike for a two-point conversion.

Hun began right back with its first TD. A low kick-off was downed on the Hun 46. On third down, "Hap" Young hit fullback Matt Savidge, cutting over the middle, who went all the way for a 41-yard scoring play. The attempted conversion failed and Hun trailed,
8-6, at the half.

Hun Takes Lead. Midway in the third quarter Hun scored again, this time driving 47 yards in 11 plays. Along the way, the visitors were aided by the penalty. Quarterback Young rolled out to his left for the final two yards. Again the conversion try failed and Hun led, 12-8.

Hun couldn't maintain its narrow margin, however. In the final period, the visitors struck twice. Fox passed to a receiver for a TD to put the Red Raiders in front again.
Shortly after, a pass from center sailed over Young's head and was recovered by Pennington on the Hun 14. Two plays later, Pennington had its third tally and 22nd point.

TENNIS TITLES WON

Frank Calkins, six of the nice tennis championships contested each fall at the Fretty Brook Tennis Club have been decided.

In the men's singles, R.
Manning Brown defeated Peter Hildick-Smith in a hard-fought three-set match, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4. The latter was the defending champion.

Brown and his opponent teamed together in the men's doubles, losing to A. Caryl Bischoff and Stanley Smoyer,
6-4, 6-4. Bischoff and Smoyer won this tournament several times ago but had not played in it together since.

Howard McMorris topped Fred Wandell, 9-6, 6-0, to win the championship for boys 18 and under, succeeding Bill Smoyer, who had left for his senior year at Andover and could not defend his title. John Claghorn won the tournament for boys and under, defeating Sandy Wandell, 6-4, 6-2.

Lissa Stevenson won a draw-out three-set match from Lissa Patton, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, to become champion in the girls' 18 and under bracket. Play women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles is continuing.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED

At Pine Brae Club, The Pine Brae Club will hold its annual fall horse show Saturday, October 12, beginning at 9 a.
m. at the club grounds, Route 518, Blawenburg. The rain date is Sunday, October 14.

Entries, which are $3 a class, close Saturday. The show is planned particularly for competition among the junior riders of the area. There will be many events for beginning and intermediate riders.

Other events will include hunter classes, a driving class for both boys and girls and juniors; a family class; a pairs under saddle class; a pleasure driving class; and a combined class that will be judged on originality.

The proceeds will benefit the United States equestrian team. Donations of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children may be made.

BOWLING NOTES

Basile Takes Lead. Winning six games, including a make-up set, Mike Basile moved into first place in the individual Classic League. Undefeated, he now leads his nearest opponent, Guido Zinetti, by 15 games. Al Hibbard remained in third place two games behind the leader while bowling a 595 series, highest of the week.

In a tie with Hibbard are Joe Trani, last week's leader,
Jack Lucey, Joe Baldino and Fred Proccacini. All have 4-2 records. Grover gained sole possession of the top spot in the "A" League by sweeping his three games from last place Yeomans, Cooper & Schaefer, led last week with Grover, dropped to second with a 14-point total, two points behind the leader.

In "B" League action, Jus-tus widened its lead to six points by sweeping three games. Sportsmen and Kase Kleaver, both won two of three games to remain in a second-place tie. Each team has 16 points.

Dick Fowler recorded the single-game high in the "A" league by rolling a 211. The only other bowler in the league to get 200 pins or better was Larry Solt, who had 200 even.

Mike Zercola took single-game honors in "B" League.

plus with a 221. Six other men cleared the 200 mark with Fred Proccacini howling a 218 to lead the way. Trailing him were Jack Lucey, 212; Bill
Parker, 203; Don Snyder, 204;
Frank Deleuca, 203; and Val
Ranallo, 200.

Para Lab and Elks Tied. The Reformers lost two points of their Industrial League lead over Para Lab by dropping two of three games. Taking two of three matches, the Princeton Elks now have 12 points.

 points to tie with Para Lab for second place. The Crests, tied for second place last week, fell to third with 10-point total.
 Nick Seiderer garnered 225 points to take single-game honors. Other bowlers over 200 this week in the league were Val Rainaldi, 216; Dick Edwards, 201; and Walter Bell, 200.

In Women's Industrial League competition, the Four Plus swept their series to move from third place into the leaders' spot. Trailing the leaders by two points is the English Shop, which won five of six games including three make-up encounters in third place with a total of 12 points. It is ideal, four points behind the leaders and two up on Deckers, Mutual Benefit Life and Jefferson, all of which are tied for the cellar spot.

Lillian Burroughs ruffled a 205, the high game of the week for the ladies and the only score over 200. Other exceptional performances were turned in by Betty Frazier with 174 pins in ten frames and Ruth Martin and Sara Williams with 163 points each. Following them were Irma Hahn, 160; Rose Zink, 156; and Lillian Scott, 155.

Princeton Motor Lodge, with 26 victories, is the three-game edge over Craft Cleaners in the Princeton Women's League. The Hit & Misses are four games off the pace in third place leading Conover Motors by a game and Apple-ette Elmal by two.

George Shuren was the only bowler to record a score of 200 in the week's high series of 526. She had games of 127, 199 and 200. Marilyn Salter, with a 151, 183, 191 set, trailed the leader by a pin.

NICKLAUS TO PLAY
 At Belle Mead, Jack Nicklaus, currently the nation's hottest—and most affluent—golfer will play in the Heart Fund Golf Classic, sponsored by the Somerset County Heart Association. The event will be held Sunday, October 14, at 11 a.m. at the Pike Brook Country Club, Belle Mead.
 Nicklaus is golfing's top drawing personality. To meet the anticipated heavy demand for tickets, special arrangements have been made to distribute tickets throughout the state.

In this area, tickets are available at the Springfield Golf Club, Princeton, Hope Valley, and Greentree and Mountain View in Trenton. In Rocky Hill, tickets may be obtained from Freshleaf Grace Gursic.

In the latter category were Bud R. Erb, 33, 34 Model Ave., Hopewell, for two months; Ann S. Delwiler, 40, 300 Douds Lane, 40 days; and Dorothea O. Oesterreich, 26, 43 Humber Street, 30 days. Edward D. Seale, 37, of 12 Craven Lane, Lawrenceville, had his license suspended for 30 days under the point system.

BAAZAR SCHEDULED
 By Newcomers' Club. The Newcomers' Club will hold a bazaar for the benefit of the Y Nursery at its first fall coffee on Wednesday, October 10, at 9 a.m. at the YMCA.
 The bazaar will include articles made by the YMCA social service group. Among them will be Christmas stockings, Christmas tree skirts and hand-knit baby garments. The Y Nursery makes it possible for many mothers to attend meetings of the Newcomers' Club.

FIRST MEETING SET
 By Hopewell D.A.R. The Colonel Joseph Stout Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its first meeting of the season Tuesday, October 16, at the home of Mrs. Herbert W. Gierke, Blawieburg Road, Hopewell.
 Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph O'Neill and Mrs. H. W. Holly. The chapter is conducting a clothing drive for D.A.R. schools and members are urged to bring their contributions to the meeting.

POW-WOW PLANNED
 And Talk By Indian Expert. Captain Robert Dankin, explorer and expert on Indian lore, will entertain boys in the first three grades in township elementary schools on Friday, according to Frank Hiebel, chief of the Princeton Indian Guides. Following Mr.

Dankin's presentation, the fathers and sons of Indian Guide age will be invited to attend a pow-wow to be held at the Princeton YMCA on Friday day.

At the pow-wow, the Apache Braves (Littlebrook School second graders) will demonstrate how Indian Guides conduct a meeting. The Apaches are comprised of eight fathers and sons. They are: Chief Donald Blalner and his son, Ray; John and George Mount; Ralph and Tom Mason; Bill and Tom Marvel; Dan and Jay High; Richard and David Traylor; Sherwood and Ann Skilman and Frank and Monty Schley.

WORKSHOP TUESDAY
 For Dogwood Garden Club. The Dogwood Garden Club of Princeton will hold a flower arranging workshop Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the home of Mrs. Charles Whinifry.

Two days later, on the 11th, the Club will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Thomas Halstead, Amwell Road, Newburg. The program will start at 1.

SCOUT CEREMONY HELD
 In All Saints' Chapel. One of the largest Boy Scout junior leadership conferences ever held in this area took place Saturday at All Saints' Chapel. One-hundred-fifty Scouts from the Stony Brook District spent all day receiving leadership in training.
 Adult leaders attending included: Harvey Hook and David Patterson, Princeton; Donald Wright, Pennington; and Theodore Grezney, Hightstown. Assistant Scout executive Vincent E. Hanft was also present.

All Scouts present had been selected by their Scoutmasters as potential leaders. At the conclusion of the exercises, each Scout was given a distinctive junior leadership necktie in recognition of his accomplishment.

NEW DENS FORMED
 In Pack 77. Three new dens have been formed in Cub Scout Pack 77. The new Cub Scouts are Robert Worn, Fred Delrymple, Chris Holt, James First, George Trevino, Douglas Westover, Steven Pace, William Allen, Bruce Maxwell, Jr., Kim Tyler, Mark Glouchevitch, Thomas Gapsill and Scott Ostroff.

Five members of the Pack have received awards. They are Donald Kalkiowski, wolf; James Bogart, bear; Andy Keiser and Jay Seitz, lion; and Douglas Bayern, silver arrow. Keiser and Seitz also received one gold arrow each, and Keiser won two silver arrows.

ROOKS TO SPEAK
 On Negro College. "The Negro College Situation" will be explored this Wednesday by the Rev. C. Shelby Rooks, associate director of the Rockefeller Theological Institute, before members of the American Association of University Women, Princeton branch.
 The group will gather at 8:15 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, Nassau and Palmer Square. Before the Rev. Mr. Rooks' talk, Mrs. Robert Eagles will give a review of "The Story of Spelman College" by Florence Reed, Miss Reed, a Princeton resident, is president emerita of Spelman.

RADIO CLUBS TO START
 KJTH and KZPW. On the Air. Princeton YMCA's radio program for junior high and advanced club groups will begin Friday at 7:30 P.M., according to Arthur Westraet, director of the Y's radio program.

There will be two separate programs. This fall, the KJTH will enable junior members to obtain amateur licenses. The advanced station, KZPW, will provide a high school and adult members with a broader program. This station has been operating during the summer from its headquarters at the YMCA, Darrothea House, 120 John Street.

In addition to the radio club, there are other Y classes and group clubs which have openings remaining. These include Adventure Club swim and gym programs, the Grac's Crafts and troupe classes. For further information on the classes and ages of these classes, contact the YMCA office. Raters are over 80 percent filled in all classes.

News Of The CHURCHES

DISFRANCHISES PLANNED
Of World-Wide Communion.
The observance of "World-Wide Communion Sunday" will be held in many Princeton churches this Sunday. The service was started by the old Federal Council of Churches and is now carried on by the World Council of Churches.

At Calvary Baptist Church, a series of prayers will be offered in the native tongues of Africa, Asia and Europe by members of the congregation. The women of the church are baking bread of different textures and colors—white, blue, pink and yellow, to symbolize interracial communion. Princeton Methodist Church, First Presbyterian Church, Second Presbyterian Church and Witherspoon Street Presbyterian have also planned special observances.

CLASSES TO BEGIN
For Church Laymen. The 15th annual Christian Leadership School will begin at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday at the Theological Seminary. Interdenominational in scope, the lecture series is scheduled for five successive Thursdays, sponsored by the Council of Churches of Greater Trenton, the Princeton area churches and the Seminary. Last year, 429 laymen enrolled.

The school will offer one-hour courses on "Two Centuries of Protestantism in America," "The Acts," "The Christian Church," "The Church in the World Order," and "On the Road to Asia." Two- and four-hour courses include "Amos and Hosea," "Learning from Primaries through Observation," and "Creative Activities Workshop." The Rev. Arlo D. Duba is in charge of registration.

SMORGASBORD PLANNED
At Griggstown Reformed. The Guild for Christian Service of Griggstown Reformed Church will hold its 13th annual smorgasbord dinner next Saturday, October 12. Lutheran and Norwegian foods will be served at seatings scheduled for 6:00, 6:15 and 7:30 p.m. Reservations are required and may be made with Mrs. Arthur Carroll, 229-6485, or Mrs. John Marck, WA 1-7125. The deadline is October 12. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children age 12 and under.

FALL LUNCHEON SET
By Women's Association. The Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church will hold its fall luncheon at 12:45 Monday, followed by a meeting at 1:45.

The speaker will be John Park Lee, president of the North Conway Foundation, an international agency studying the alcohol problem. His topic will be "The Church and the Problem of Alcohol." Mr. Lee is a member of the National Council of Churches Committee on Problems of Alcoholism, the National Council on the Aging, a director of the National Council on Alcoholism and is the former director of the division of welfare affairs for the Presbyterian Board of Pensions.

Most Sacred Day
The most important and sacred of the Jewish Holy Days, Yom Kippur, begins at sundown this Sunday. It falls on the 10th day of the first month of the Hebrew calendar.

Known as the Day of Atonement—or "At-same-ment"—it signifies unity between individuals and the community.

Observed by fasting and worship, the services are devoted to the review and cleansing of sins, a process not just of purifying, but of establishing harmony with the Divine purpose.

Services at the Princeton Jewish Center will begin with the Kol Nidre at 6:15 Sunday evening and conclude with the sounding of the shofar at the 5:30 p.m. Neilah service on Monday. The closing service is an affirmation of faith in the eternal, one God.

Obituaries

Dr. George D. Strayer, 85, died September 29 of a heart attack in his room at the Nassau Club & Motor Hotel. He taught at Teachers College of Columbia University for 36 years before his retirement in 1943. Until his death he had served as an educational consultant.

Dr. Strayer was professor of educational administration at Columbia from 1910 until his retirement. He was director of the division of field studies of Columbia's Institute of Educational Research from 1921 to 1942. He was president of the National Education Association in 1918 and 1919.

Last spring, Dr. Strayer completed a study for the New Jersey Board of Education on methods of dealing with the state's increasing college population. His 78-page report was entitled "The Needs of New Jersey in Higher Education, 1962-1970."

Dr. Strayer had directed a similar study in California in which he devised a plan for revising the state's system of higher education. He directed surveys of schools in more than 50 American cities, including New York, Boston, Chicago, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and St. Paul, Minn.

Born in Wayne, Pa., Dr. Strayer began teaching at the college in a one-room school in Plymouth Meeting, Pa., to earn money to attend college. He was graduated from Johns Hopkins University in 1903 and received his Ph.D. from Columbia in 1905.

Dr. Strayer held honorary degrees from five colleges. The most recent was conferred this year by Paterson State College.

With Clifford Upton he was co-author of a series of textbooks in mathematics for elementary and junior high schools. He was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Three sons survive. They are Dr. Joseph R. Strayer, professor of history at Princeton University; Dr. George D. Strayer, professor of education at the University of Washington; and John F. Strayer, an airplane manufacturer of Alfred, Me.

Dr. Strayer also leaves seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Another son, Dr. Paul J. Strayer, a professor of economics at Princeton, died last year. Dr. Strayer married M. Cora Bell in 1903, and she died in 1957.

There will be a memorial service Friday at 4 p.m. in the Princeton University Chapel. The Rev. Dr. William Tucker, pastor emeritus of the Second Presbyterian Church of Princeton, will officiate.

Mrs. Grace Wales Hendee Smith, 85, died September 30 at her home, 360 Ridgeview Road, after a lengthy illness.

The wife of Dr. Charles Hendee Smith, she came to Princeton in 1927 after living in New York City and New Brunswick.

Also surviving are a son, Dr. David W. Hendee Smith, of Drakes Corner Road, nine grandchildren and a great-grandchild. Another son, Robert Hendee Smith of Louisville, died 16 years ago.

The deceased was private, undisturbed director of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Stephen J. Novobitsky, 73, died October 1 at his home on North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell. A retired machinist, he had lived in Hopewell for 41 years.

He is survived by a son, William S. four daughters, Mrs. Mary Lake, Mrs. Ann Wastley, and Mrs. Eleanor Sabo, all of Hopewell, and Mrs. Josephine Shender of Hamilton Square. 14 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and two brothers in Czechoslovakia.

The funeral was held in Hopewell; requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Alphonsus Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

CAN IT BE THE TREES?

Decidedly. Towering oaks and pines, majestic hickories, flowering dogwoods abound at Pine Knoll in Lawrence Township. The reason: this was a famous tree nursery and the trees will remain. The soil is rich, the terrain gently rolling, the elevation one of the highest in the state. Next door to the Green Acres Golf Course. An elementary school right on the grounds. A mile to Lawrenceville Shopping Center. Five minutes from Princeton and Trenton.

This perfect site attracted one of the finest custom home builders of Princeton. He is building these 33 homes with the quality and luxury features that are his trademark. Come out today. You'll stay!

Personality abounds in this charming compact Borough Ranch with its high-ceilinged living room with raised hearth 1/p and built-ins, newly decorated kitchen with dishwasher, screened porch, three bedrooms, basement and garage. Walk to bus. $28,500.

Plenty of space for family living with four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, playroom, large screened porch, patio, and tiny hide-away study. Garage. Near high school. $28,500.

A great deal of charm inside and out, a prestige street in Princeton, a park-like atmosphere are only a few of the reasons to see this delightful one-story home with its den, sleep-down living room, three bedrooms, 2 baths, porches and much garage space. $49,900.

Better-than-new Borough Colonial on a pleasant street—a 1-acre oasis close to town—with four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, and an exceptional living room. The seven rooms, basement and garage are spic and span. $39,500.

This large, 100 year old Colonial, on two acres with Princeton schools, can be used by a six bedroom family. The double living room, 10 ft. ceilings, two enclosed porches and general living space, with some additional restoration, add up to an interesting buy at $29,500.

In our continued attempt to keep faith with Princeton's traditions, we went to the foremost Colonial architects. As a result, we are planning to build four large Colonials in Llanfair at Princeton, architecturally styled to please you. These have not been done before and we invite you to go over the plans.

3 A.M.

It is 3 A.M. in a community pharmacy. The street is in darkness, yet lights are on in the pharmacy. Why? Because the pharmacist is faced with an emergency.

He received an urgent telephone call at 2:50 A.M. Mrs. Saxon, a sufferer from asthma, was having severe difficulty in breathing. Her husband told the pharmacist that she had run out of the medicine prescribed by her physician.

The pharmacist dressed quickly, rushed to his store, located the original prescription in his files, telephoned to Mrs. Saxon's physician, prepared and delivered the medication. Soon, Mrs. Saxon was breathing normally again, and a possible tragedy had been averted.

Such cases are frequent, yet your pharmacist meets them with speed and confidence as part of his complex professional duties. Today a pharmacist goes to college for five years, spends 2000 hours of apprenticeship, and must pass a rigorous examination before he is licensed. He must stock thousands of dollars worth of health products you need every day—as well as those you may need only once in a lifetime.

It was not by chance that the pharmacist had the proper drug ready for Mrs. Saxon when she needed it. We call the complex process by which a drug moves from manufacturer to patient "the miracle of drug distribution."

The teamwork of manufacturer, drug wholesaler and pharmacist assures that you—as well as Mrs. Saxon—will always receive the medicine you need. This miracle of drug distribution—the fact that the medicine your doctor has prescribed is ready when you need it—is just one reason why prescriptions are today's best bargains.
